FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Habitat for Humanity presents, Jeans ‘n Classics –
The Song Remains the Same - The Music of Led Zeppelin

February 3, 2014, London, ON
Rolling Stone magazine says, “It wasn't just Led Zeppelin's thunderous volume, sledgehammer beat, and edge-of-mayhem arrangements that made it the most influential and successful heavy-metal pioneer. It was the band’s finesse.” On February 22, 2014, Habitat for Humanity will benefit as Jeans ‘n Classics brings the Music of Led Zeppelin to the London Convention Centre.

Vocals by Jeans ‘n Classics own Michael Shotton, with Peter Brennan’s rich arrangements performed by the Jeans ‘n Classics Rock Symphony, together will interpret the one and only style of Robert Plant and Jimmy Page that resulted in sales of over 100 million records.

Songs will include:
Black Dog
Good Times Bad Times
Dazed and Confused
Kashmir
...and many more

Jeans ‘n Classics concerts take place at the London Convention Centre and are presented with exceptional sound and lighting, large screens for an enhanced visual experience, table seating and full bar and finger food available at the venue.

Named the “Biggest Band in the World” and “one of the most successful, innovative and influential rock bands in the history of music,” this evening of the music of Led Zeppelin supported by the Carpenters Union Local 1946, will bring to the audience the light and shade that Jimmy Page worked so very hard to accomplish, with loud and heavy themes underscored with subtle and self-reflective moods.

When: February 22, 2014 – 8:00pm (doors/bar open at 7pm)
Where: London Convention Centre – 300 York Street, London
For tickets: www.jeansnclassics.com $55 and $69
Contact: Mary Anne Wainright, Fundraising and Special Events Coordinator, Habitat for Humanity – Oxford Middlesex Elgin 519 455 6623 ext 228 mawainright@habitat4home.ca
Peter Brennan – Jeans ‘n Classics – jeansnclassics@mac.com 519 439 1370

All London Jeans ‘n Classics concerts are supported by the Carpenters Union Local 1946 to benefit Habitat for Humanity – Oxford Middlesex Elgin. One show remains in the 2013/14 season. On May 31, Jeans ‘n Classics performs “Shower the People – The Music of James Taylor”.